Genome editing, or genome engineering, or gene editing, is a type of genetic engineering in which DNA is inserted, deleted, modified or replaced in the genome of a living organism. Unlike early genetic engineering techniques that randomly inserts genetic material into a host genome, genome editing targets the insertions to site specific locations.

The symptoms of Holt-Oram syndrome are similar to those of another syndrome called Duane-radial ray syndrome. However, these syndromes are caused by genetic changes (pathogenic variants or mutations) in different genes. Holt-Oram syndrome may be associated with a wide range of signs and symptoms, even among members of the same family.
